

AO Mountain Camp
RED STAG HUNTING IN PATAGONIA

AO Mountain Camp

Argentina Outfitters is The Finest Free Range Red Stag operation on EARTH.

Our operations are strictly fair-chase hunts with no high fences. Some of the largest wild Red Stag in Argentina have been taken on this property over the years.

Deep inside AO Mountain Camp, inside one of the finest Red Stag territories in Patagonia, we have three base camps. This huge ranch lies southeast of San Martin de los Andes city and covers an area of 200,000 magnificent acres of pure mountain high country, thick forests, glades and deep valleys. Due to the challenging terrain, hunting is done on horseback in order to reach the hunting area and then begin the hunt on foot. The horses allow the hunter to have a much more enjoyable hunting experience (there is no need to have prior experience since these mountain horses are well trained). There are a large number of Red Stags in this area and each year we harvest excellent trophies.

The lodging is composed of array of large, comfortable individual tents. In camp there is a cook that prepares hearty meals. Tents are strategically located near a stream and prepared for wind conditions.

All of our Red Stag hunting ranches are located in the San Martin & Junín de los Andes area in Northern Patagonia within the Province of Neuquen. Reaching your hunts easy with multiple daily commercial flights from Buenos Aires Domestic Airport to San Martin de los Andes and Bariloche. Flight time is approximately 2 hours.
